

Up Front In Twilight War: III New Combat Boot Proves Efficiency of Supply Line

Airlift To Korean Front Saves
Vital Time, Bolsters Morale

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

TACHIKAWA AIR BASE, Japan—(INA)—The new combat boot is this Winter's classic example of how bottlenecks in the States are being broken, and the goods instantly delivered to the battlefield in Korea.

As they are being handed to more and more front-line troops, more and more the danger of frostbite has been eliminated among UN forces.

The story of how the boot is being produced and shipped is part of a daily average of air drops from the States to the Korean front. It is a part of the operation which includes the production, distribution, level and extent of air supply.

"Never before in military history has so much material been supplied to the front in so many days, and in such volume," says a spokesman for the United States Air Force. "Through the aid of Combat Cargo Command, Korea has received more than 200,000 tons of supplies in the last 100 days."

The new combat boot is made of a special material which is lighter and more comfortable than the old style boot. It is also more durable and has a better grip.

BOOTS, BOOTS, BOOTS—Supplied with a brand new type of winter combat boot, these U. S. soldiers head back to the front in Korea. Fast re-supply jobs in Korea are a classic example of how bottlenecks are being broken by the aerial supply line.

The new boots were made in the United States and shipped to Korea by air. They are made of a special material which is lighter and more comfortable than the old style boot. It is also more durable and has a better grip.
