

Women of Moose to Attend Pilgrim Governor's Conference Aug. 21 to 23.

Many Lynn women, members of the local chapter Women of Moose, will play an important part in the Pilgrim Governor's conference to be held Aug. 21 to 23 at Providence, R. I., where members of the Loyal Order of Moose and Women of Moose will greet Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania and the Pilgrim Governor of the Loyal Order of Moose, Mrs. Eva G. Starkey of Lynn, who on Sept. 1 assumes her duties as Grand Regent of the College of Regents, Women of Moose, and Grand Recorder, Miss Katherine Smith of Washington, D. C.

With all lodges of Moose and chapters of the Women of Moose cooperating the conference will be one of the greatest of its kind held by the Loyal Order of Moose in New England. Mrs. Margaret Newbolt of Newport, R. I., chairman of the woman's program, is working with a large committee. As general chairman she will open the conference and present the group leaders, who in turn will conduct the conferences, on publicity, in charge of Mrs. Marion Moore of Newport; social service in charge of Mrs. Belle Whittemore of Barre, Vt.; home making, Mrs. May Pickett of West Warwick, R. I.; child care and training, Grand Recorder Katherine Smith; library, Mrs. Margaret Dahl of Waterbury, Conn.; Mooseheart, Mrs. Frances Bourdon of Lynn; Moosehaven, Mrs. Eva Rougeau of Marlboro; membership, Mrs. Ella McKenney of Waltham.

The exemplification of the ritual during the initiation of candidates in honor of the grand regent. Mrs. Anna Johnston of Newport will have charge of the ritualistic competition and fancy drill team contest. Mrs. Anna Johnston of Newport will direct the ritual work. The local fancydrill team will be in charge of Capt. Lillian B. Fitzgerald. A new chapter will be instituted in Providence Aug. 21. August 22 the men and women of the organization will join at the Mooseheart Alumni dinner, which will end the day's program.
